Dear beach27288,

Hi,

I have an unusual request not related to a sale ...

I have the same model motorcycle as you are selling (with 24,000 miles on it).

Took apart and lubed my rear brake pedal yesterday, forgot where one of the washers go back. Dealership couldn't answer my question. I thought I'd look for someone who owns one at the moment.

May I send you a closeup digital photo of my rear brake pedal along with a description of what I'm looking for, and you could tell me if yours is the same? Everything is externally-visible (no disassembly involved).

Thanks, Dave Ashley, Marshall, Michigan.

Dear beach27288,

Hi,

Thanks for your willingness to help.

This web page has photos of how I reassembled my rear brake pedal.

http://www.dtashley.com/howtos/2010/04/rear\_brake\_pedal\_2006\_vt600c/

I hope it is visible in the photos that there is a washer between the pedal bracket and pedal, but no washer between the pedal and frame.

I hope this is right.

Could you let me know if the motorcycle you have looks the same?

Thanks sincerely, Dave Ashley
